

Always remember, the most beautiful jewel you can ever find, is the love you have for yourself. Because like a diamond, you shine brightest when you are true to who you are.

